

TOKYO COLLEGE

共に考える。未来のかたち Shaping a Shared Future Together

Lecture

Zoom Webinar

Loanwords and Japanese Identity: Inundating or Absorbed?

Is our language inundated by loanwords? Or is it being enriched by absorbing foreign vocabulary? We often hear such discussions in contemporary Japan. Loanwords and Japanese Identity: Inundating or Absorbed? explores the relationship between language and identity through an examination of public attitudes towards lexical borrowing in the Japanese language.

2023. 4. 19 [Wed.]
5:00 pm - 6:30 pm JST

Commentator

MURAMOTO Yukiko

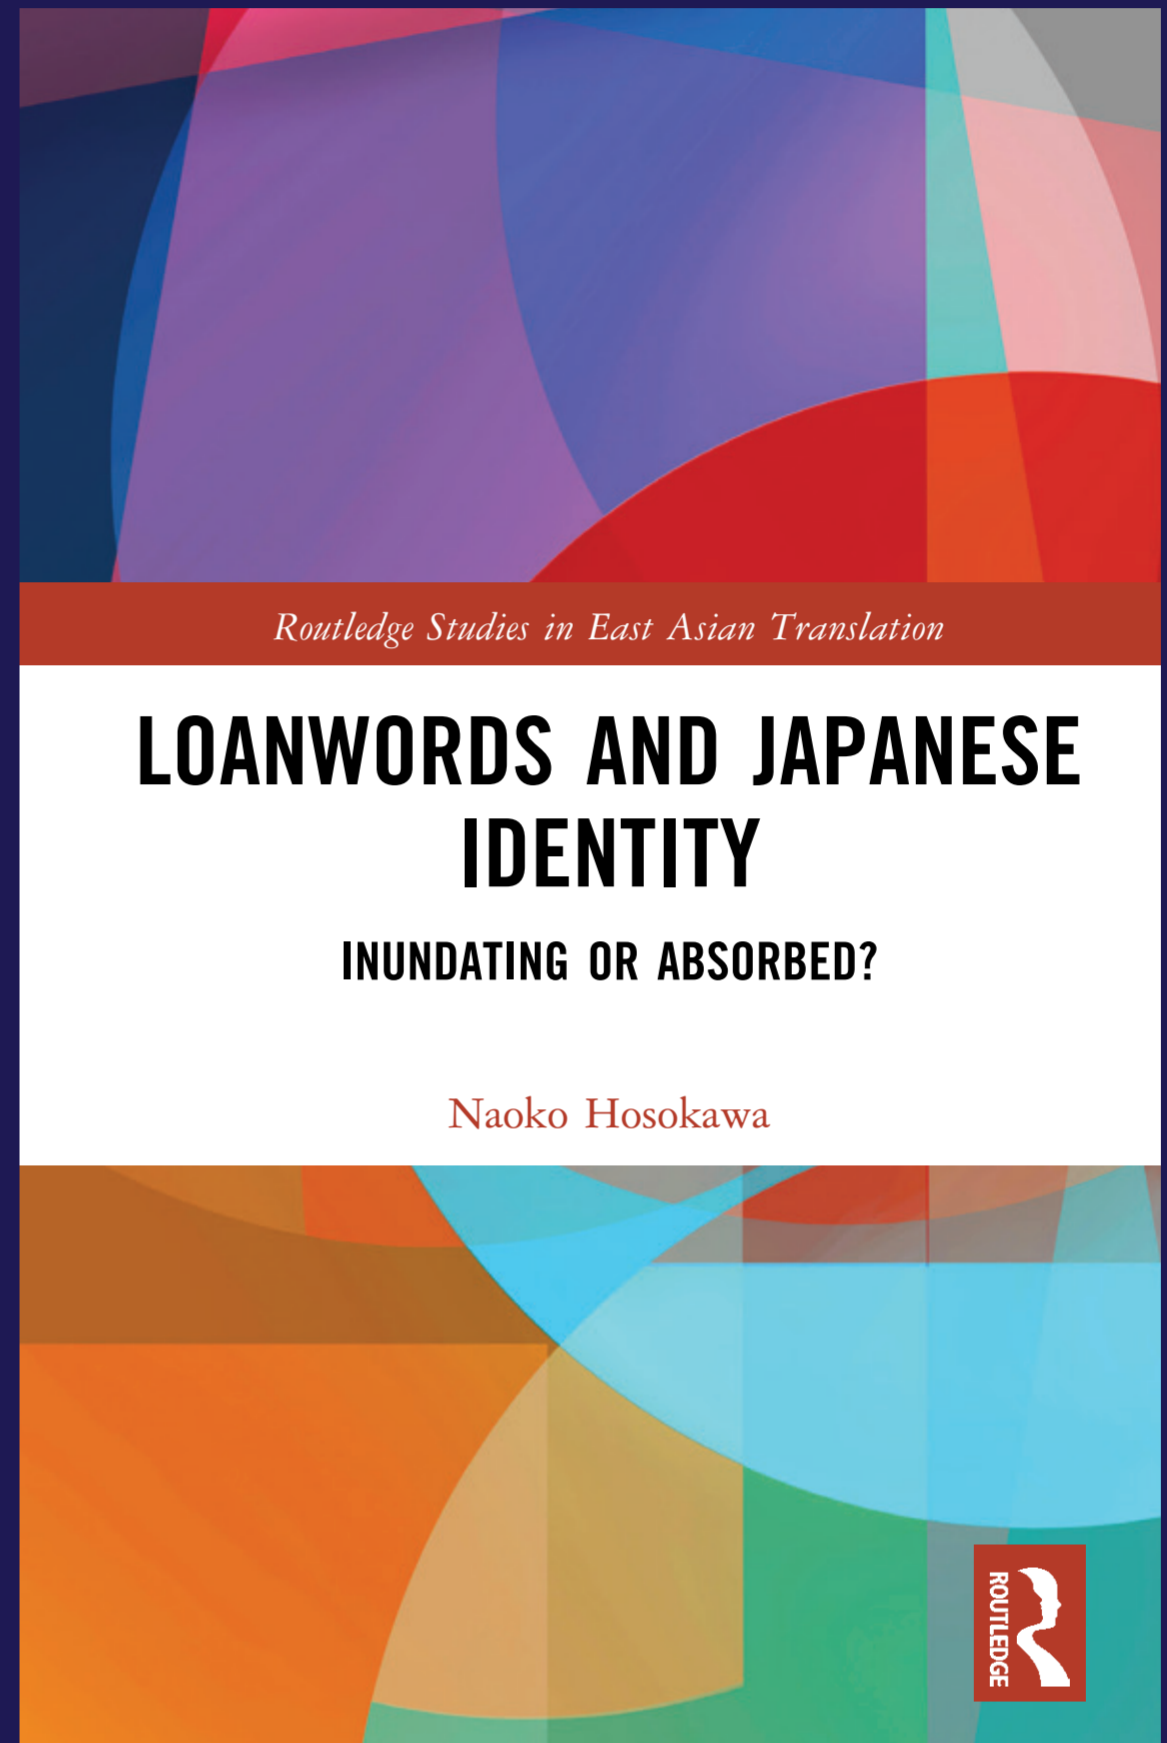

Professor, Graduate School of Humanities and Sociology, The University of Tokyo

Commentator

Blai GUARNÉ

Associate Professor, East Asian Studies Program, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona

Speaker
Book Author

HOSOKAWA Naoko

Postdoctoral Fellow,
Tokyo College,
The University of Tokyo

Venue

Zoom Webinar

Language

English with simultaneous Japanese translation

Contact

tokyo.college.event@tc.u-tokyo.ac.jp

Pre-registration required

▶ Register here

東京大学に新しく設立された「東京カレッジ」。世界の第一線で活躍する研究者や知識人を招き、市民の皆さんと一緒に未来社会の様々な側面について考える場を作ります。

Tokyo College aims to generate new knowledge to contribute to the creation of an inclusive society and spark deeper public engagement with the University.

facebook

twitter

Newsletter

東京大学
THE UNIVERSITY OF TOKYO

TOKYO COLLEGE